1.0	PREAMBLE: GNU is gearing up for several initiatives towards academic excellence, quality improvement and administrative reforms. In view of this priority and in-keeping with GNU Vision and Mission; process was already initiated towards introduction of semester system, grading system and credit system. The above initiatives acquired further strength with UGC Circular D.O.No. F.1-2/2008(XI Plan) dated March 2009 informing all the Universities regarding UGC's new initiatives under the 11th Five Year plan, on speedy and substantive academic and administrative reforms regarding higher education. Given this background GNU has framed this "GNU CBCS REGULATION- 2010". As the GNU has adopted this regulation, the same will have to be implemented by all the Faculties of GNU for their academic Programmes.

	1.	learn at their own pace,
	2.	Choose electives from a wide range of elective courses offered by the University departments,
	3.	Adopt an inter-disciplinary approach in learning, and
	4.	Make best use of the expertise of available faculty.
5.2	PROGRAM: ‘Programme’ means a set of the required number of semesters leading to the award of a UG or PG degree / diploma of GNU
5.3	SEMESTER: ‘Semester’ means a term consisting of a minimum of 450 contact hours distributed over 90 working days spread over 18 weeks of five-day duration each and five contact hours per day.(18 X 5 X 5= 450) In case of 15 week semester, there will be six working days. (15X 6 X 5= 450) Depending upon its duration, each academic year will be divided into two semesters. Semesters will be known as either Odd Semester or Even semester. The Semester from July to November will be Semesters I, III, V or VII depending upon the programme duration and similarly the semester from December to April will be Semesters II, IV, VI and VIII.
5.4	ACADEMIC WEEK: ‘Academic Week’ is a unit of five or six working days during which distribution of work is organized from six to five contact hours of one hour duration on each day.
5.5	CREDITS: Credit is a kind of weightage given to the contact hours to teach the prescribed syllabus, which is in a modular form. Normally one credit is allocated to 15 contact hours.
	5.5.1	In each of the courses, credits will be assigned on the basis of the number of lectures / tutorials / laboratory work and other forms of learning required for completing the course contents in maximum 18 week schedule.
	5.5.2	The instructional days as worked out by the UGC for one academic year are 180 working days i.e. 90 days per semester.
	5.5.3	In GNU, UG Programmes have minimum five courses PG programmes shall have minimum four papers in each semester. It means a UG student has to complete 20 credits in each semester session and a PG student is required to complete 16 credits in each semester.
	5.5.4	Mechanics of Credit Calculation: As per GNU standard, 1Credit = 15 hours of lectures.
	5.5.5	Contact hours will include all the modes of teaching and it includes forms like lectures / tutorials / laboratory work / fieldwork or other forms. In determining the number of hours of instruction required for a course involving laboratory / field-work, 2 hours of laboratory / field work is generally considered equivalent to 1 hour of lecture.

6.0	CREDIT POINT, (P): Credit point is the value obtained by multiplying the grade point (G) by the credit (C): $P = G \times C$.
7.0	GRADE POINT: Grade point is an integer indicating the numerical equivalent of the letter grade.
8.0	SEMESTER GRADE POINT AVERAGE (SGPA): Semester Grade Point Average (SGPA) is the value obtained by dividing the sum of credit points (P) earned by a student in various courses taken in a semester by the total number of credits earned by the student in that semester. SGPA shall be rounded off to two decimal places.
9.0	CUMULATIVE GRADE POINT AVERAGE (CGPA): 'Cumulative Grade Point Average' (CGPA) is the value obtained by dividing the sum of credit points in all the courses earned by a student for the entire programme, by the total number of credits. CGPA shall be rounded off to two decimal places. CGPA indicates the comprehensive academic performance of a student in a programme.
	9.1	An overall letter grade (Cumulative Grade) for the entire programme shall be awarded to a student depending on his/her CGPA.
